The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston states that it is his intention:

To construct a sanitary sewer of 8-inch earthen pipe in Eldredge street, between 295 feet northeast of Dale street and a point 150 feet southwesterly in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $350.

LOANS DECREASING.

In the ten years, 1911-1920, inclusive, the yearly average of debt contracted for other than Rapid Transit construction was $3,040,286, while in the ten years, 1900-1909, inclusive, the yearly average was $4,755,600, showing a decrease in the last decade of $1,715,314 average yearly, or 36.1 per cent.

Department increases of expenditure in excess of $25,000 over the year 1919-20, were: Assessing Dept., $28,539; Collecting Dept., $31,896; Consumptives' Hospital Dept., $59,512; Election Dept., $72,521; Fire Dept., $359,093; School Depts., $2,485,296; Public Works, $1,295,958; Police, $495,770; County of Suffolk, $119,697; Park and Recreation Dept., $210,759; Overseers of Poor, $73,583; Library, $125,019; Public Buildings, $58,806; City Hospital, $235,071; Health, $52,201.

Regular appropriations unexpended by the departments and accounted as surplus reached the noteworthy total of $370,808. Decreases of expenditures from 1919 were City and County Debt Requirements, $357,991; Soldiers' Relief Dept., $52,557; House of Correction, $41,608; Licensing Board, $2,771.

Extraordinary expenditures for permanent improvements (i. e., loan appropriations, etc., including unexpended portions from previous year), $3,897,029, of which $792,215 was for Rapid Transit construction, mostly for the new Arlington St. Station, i. e., $607,496; $848,060 for sewer construction; $1,035,685 for making of highways; $350,000 for School Dept. buildings; $156,601 for East Boston Ferry improvements; $147,092 for sea wall, etc., Roxbury Canal; $112,466 for Jail hospital; $69,144 for widening of streets; $188,984 for playgrounds; $42,551 for park improvements; $78,522 for High Pressure Fire Service; $50,792 for public buildings and land; $24,917 for other objects. For Rapid Transit and other debt requirements, $1,793,044. Total extraordinary, $5,690,073 or $1,107,734 more than in 1919-20. Of the 1920 loans, the amount expended within the same fiscal year was $1,866,406 or 65.6 per cent.

POPULATION OF BOSTON BY SEX, NATIVITY AND COLOR.

By sex, 368,756 males and 379,304 females; ratio of males to females, 97.2 to 100 as against 96.7 to 100 in 1910. Foreign-born whites, 238,919 or 25,749 less than in 1915. Negroes, 16,350; Chinese, 1,075; Japanese, 76; Indian, 34; all others, 40; increase of 769 in Negro population since 1915 and 2,786 since 1910.

ASSESSED VALUATION AND TAX RATE OF BOSTON.

Assessed valuation as of April 1, 1920, $1,572,457,180 (as corrected), or $1,396,073,300 real estate and $176,383,880 personal (including $23,209,180 bank stock). The real estate valuation showed a gain of $66,783,200 over the 1919 total; the personality a loss of $22,479,798.

Total tax rate, $24.10 per $1,000 of valuation, or only 50 cents more than in 1919, divided thus: City tax, $19.04 ($7.14 of this for schools); County tax, $1.42; State tax, $3.64. Total tax warrant, $41,258,579.59 (i. e., $2,544,776.43 more than in 1919) or $32,833,918.08 City tax; $2,364,527.07 County tax and $6,060,134.44 State tax and Metropolitan assessments; Poll tax $978,970 or $5 each on 195,794 polls, the extra $3 poll tax being imposed 1920-23, inclusive, because of soldiers' war bonus (see Acts of 1919, Chap. 283).

The exceptional increase in the City rate, or $1.89, was due to the unprecedented demands of the School Committee for increased appropriations, the School tax for 1920 being $2.12 more, but the City tax other than for schools decreasing 0.23, as compared with 1919. As the State tax was reduced from $5.03 in 1919 to $3.64 (—$1.39) only 50 cents addition to the total tax rate was necessary in 1920.

Of total assessed property value, 43 per cent is located in Ward 5 and 23 per cent in Wards 7, 8 and 9, or about two-thirds of the whole in said four wards. Average valuation per acre for all land assessed (i. e., 18,611 acres), $42,512, the total land valuation in 1920 being $791,199,100.

In the 10 years 1906-1916, the total assessed valuation increased 25 per cent, while the population gained 26 per cent. In the 20 years, 1896-1916, the gain in valuation was 64 per cent and in population 50 per cent.

Boston has for some years ranked fourth among cities of the United States as to aggregate valuation, but first as to valuation per capita. The City's real estate valuation in 1919 was 74 per cent larger than that of St. Louis, 63 per cent larger than Pittsburgh's, 67.4 per cent larger than San Francisco's and 132 per cent larger than Baltimore's, all computed on the same basis, or 100 per cent assessment.

ANNEXATION TO BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows; East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 53.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included.

POPULATION OF BOSTON BY GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRICTS.

East Boston (i. e., Wds. 1 and 2, including the islands) 63,051 or 2,629 less than in 1915; Charlestown (Wds. 3 and 4) 34,272 or 5,329 less; Boston Proper (Wds. 5, 6, 7, 8, and northern corner of Wds. 12 and 13) 170,637 or 25,663 decrease; South Boston (Wds. 9, 10 and northern part of Wd. 11 to Howell St.) 64,144 or 5,601 decrease; Roxbury (most of Wds. 12, 13, 14, 15 and all of Wd. 16) 135,024 or 7,341 increase; Dorchester most of Wd. 11, Wds. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and part of 24) 157,932 or 19,813 increase; West Roxbury (including Jamaica Plain and Roslindale, i. e., Wds. 22 and 23) 63,190 or 7,119 increase; Brighton (Wds. 25 and 26) 41,724 or 6,942 increase; Hyde Park (most of Wd. 24) 18,086 or 628 increase. According to these unprecedented census returns, the five districts constituting the most densely inhabited part of Boston (i. e., from the northern boundary to Franklin Park, including Roxbury and South Boston) showed a net decrease from 1915 to 1920 amounting in all to 31,881, while the other four districts showed an increase of only 34,502. In the preceding five years, 1910-1915, the same five districts increased by 16,373 and the other four by 58,481, a total increase (omitting the 15,936 gained by annexation of Hyde Park in 1912) of 58,918, or more than 22 times the increase from 1915 to 1920 as shown by last U. S. Census.

POPULATION OF COUNTIES (U. S. CENSUS) WITH INCREASE OVER PREVIOUS CENSUS (STATE) RANKED FROM LARGEST.

(1) Suffolk (3 cities and 1 town) 835,522 or 8,721 over 1915; (2) Middlesex (11 cities and 43 towns) 778,352 or + 44,728; (3) Essex (9 cities and 25 towns) 482,156 or + 18,494; (4) Worcester (3 cities and 57 towns) 455,135 or + 24,432; (5) Bristol (4 cities and 16 towns) 359,005 or + 12,041; (6) Hampden (3 cities and 20 towns) 300,305 or + 37,361; (7) Norfolk (1 city and 27 towns) 219,081 or + 17,174; seven other counties (4 cities and 127 towns) 422,800 or — 3,905. Total for the 14 counties (38 cities and 316 towns) 3,852,356 or 159,046 (i. e., 4.3 per cent) over 1915. Of said total, 2,741,599 (i. e., 71.17 per cent) were in the cities and 1,110,757 (i. e., 28.83 per cent) in the towns. The four counties, Suffolk, Middlesex, Essex and Bristol contain 63.73 per cent of the state's inhabitants.

If the municipalities having a population of 5,000 or over are properly called urban, then the percentage of urban population in the entire state reaches the notable figure of 90, while the rural shows but 10 per cent.

INCORPORATION OF BOSTON.

Boston was incorporated as a city February 23, 1822, this being the date when the Act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said Act, viz. Chap. 110, 1821-22, as its first City Charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. Charter again revised in 1885 and amended in 1909.

PETITION FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF KINDERGARTEN IN MOZART SCHOOL.

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Dec. 5, 1921, to whom was referred at the meeting held on Oct. 31, 1921 (see p. 157) a petition from various residents of Roslindale for the establishment of a kindergarten in the Mozart School, Longfellow District, reporting that the petitioners request the erection of a portable building for the purpose.

It is pretty generally admitted that a portable building is not suitable for a kindergarten class. Moreover, the portable building situation in this city at the present time is such that it seems to him inadvisable to recommend the establishment of an additional kindergarten when such establishment would require the erection or transfer of a portable building to provide therefor, even though conditions in the particular school or district are such that a grade class may be transferred to the portable and the kindergarten then housed in a permanent structure.

The Board of Apportionment is recommending an appropriation for the construction of a 4-room building in the Robert G. Shaw District, which it is planned shall house a kindergarten and Grades I-III. Land has been selected at the corner of Church and South streets, and he is hopeful that work may now progress on the building in such manner as will make it available for occupancy next September.

To this new building pupils from the Mozart School may then be transferred in such numbers as will undoubtedly leave a suitable room for a kindergarten in the Mozart School.

In view of the foregoing, and for the further reason that the budget for the current year made no provision for this additional kindergarten, he recommends that the communication from these residents of Roslindale be placed on file, and that they be informed that their request will have very careful consideration at or about the beginning of the next school year.

Placed on file, and the recommendation adopted.

NET DEBT PER CAPITA IN LEADING CITIES (BY RANK).

New York, $183.87; Cincinnati, $169.13; New Orleans, $117.56; Boston, $113.72 (i. e. with population wrongly estimated at 738,901. Should be $106.39 with population estimated at 789,817 on Feb. 1, 1919); Baltimore, $100.54; Cleveland, $95.75; Pittsburgh, $91.44; Los Angeles, $87.61; San Francisco, $86.24; Philadelphia, $79.60. Figures are approximate, as population had to be estimated. (See U. S. Census Bureau's Financial Statistics of Cities, 1919, page 297.)

The per capita figures are high for New York, Boston and Cincinnati, as compared with other cities, because of their extensive investments in public service enterprises. Boston's debt for subways and tunnels being 38 per cent of the whole debt and the interest and sinking-fund dues payable from the revenue earned, it should be classed as investment-debt and kept separate from the debt for non-productive outlays met by taxation. Hence the per capita net general debt of Boston in 1919 was $67.32, not $106.39, assuming that the population was 789,817 on Feb. 1.

Boston, December 7, 1921.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Christian A. Zappe, 5 Lindale avenue, Dedham, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters, and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

CONTRACTS APPROVED.

BUDGET TRANSFERS APPROVED.CITY CLERK DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 16, 1921.

MR. J. ALFRED MITCHELL, City Auditor:

You are respectfully requested to make the following transfers in the items appropriated for the City Clerk Department:

From the appropriation for B-3, $398.94, to the appropriation for B-39, $10.33; C-9, $75.79; C-10, $7.70; D-1, $305.12; total, $398.94.

Yours very truly,

JAMES DONOVAN, City Clerk.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, December 6, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—In accordance with the permission of the Department of Civil Service and Registration the appointment of Sabina I. McCarthy, employed as clerk for a temporary period in this office has been made permanent. It is therefore necessary to transfer her from A-3, Unassigned, to A-1, Permanent, beginning Friday, December 2, 1921, at the same salary, viz., $12 a week. Inasmuch as Mary B. Lynch resigned from her position as shorthand reporter in this office on October 15, 1921, there remains the amount of $375 in the amount of salary assigned to her under A-1, Shorthand Reporter, 1 at $1,800 a year, $1,750.

It is therefore requested that the amount of $104 to cover the salary of Miss McCarthy for the eight weeks and four days from December 2, 1921, to January 31, 1922, inclusive, be transferred from A-1, Shorthand Reporter, 1 at $1,800 a year, $1,750, to A-1, Clerk, 1 at $12 a week, there being no appropriation under this item.

In the item B-1, Printing and Binding, there was allowed in the budget $1,200, the same amount as was allowed and proved sufficient last year. An estimate was obtained from the Printing Department of the probable cost per page of the printing and binding of the annual report of the commission, i. e., Volume XVI. of the commission's reports. This estimate was itemized, but at the time it was made it was impossible to tell how many pages the report would occupy, although it was supposed it would be about the same length as that of last year. A bill has been rendered by the Printing Department for this report, amounting to $1,309. It is therefore necessary to transfer the additional amount from some other item to pay this charge. There remains in B-1 the amount of $1,181.80 and in B-28 the amount of $3,273.80. It is desired to allow $28 for expense of printing and binding during the months of December and January, which will leave in B-1 the amount of $1,153.80.

It is therefore requested that there be transferred from B-28, $4,205, to B-1, $1,200, the sum of $155.20 to pay the bill of the Printing Department.

Very truly yours,

MICHAEL F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 13, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully ask permission to make the following transfers in the Fire Department appropriation for the year 1921-22:

From the appropriation for A-1, Commissioner, $1,250; Supervisor of Motor Apparatus, $2,533; District Chiefs, $67.10; Captains, $1,000; Lieutenants, $450; Engineers, $2,300; Assistant Engineers, $3,000; Principal Operators, $844.39; Assistant Foreman, $928.18; Stockman, $670.68; Auto Repairers, $1,000; Inside Wiremen, $767.20; Plumbers, $388.80; Steamfitter, $728.20; Painters, $319.07; Firemen, $286; Machinist, $128.62; Vulcanizer, $67.50; Painter, $70.87; A-2, Temporary Employees, $134; A-1, Repairers and Linemen, $45; Machinist, $7.41; Carpenters, $13.98, to the appropriation for A-1, Privates, $18,000.

From the appropriation for A-1, Carpenters, $46.02, to the appropriation for A-1, Clerks, $46.02.

From the appropriation for A-1, Carpenters, $500, to the appropriation for A-3, Overtime, $500.

The appropriation for the "Private" item is the largest in the annual budget of the Fire Department, and it is from this item deductions for slack are made and large transfers effected to support temporarily items which have been increased because of necessity. This office deducted $20,000 from the amount necessary, and during the year transfers in the amount of $12,706.30 were transferred from the "Private" item to the items of Captain, Lieutenant, Engineers and Assistant Engineers to provide for the high pressure service and strengthening of companies.

The deficit in the item of "Clerks" at $1,200 amounts to $46.02. This deficit was caused by the appointment of Thomas J. Murphy as a clerk at $1,200 and who for two weeks had his pay included in the above named item. On instructions from your Honor's office the pay for this man was included in the item of Assistant Chief Clerk, Wire Division, until recently, when on a transfer of funds his account was placed with that of "Clerks" at $1,200 in the Wire Division.

The deficit in the "Overtime" item was caused in part by the sickness of one of our firemen in the power plant of the Repair Shop, and because of which it was necessary to employ our other firemen overtime. The remainder of the deficit is due to the overtime work required by the recent storm in repairing overhead wires in the fire alarm system, and the reorganization of the Bureau of Supplies and Repairs.

I would request permission to make the following additional transfers in certain other items of the budget:

From the appropriation for B-14, Motor Vehicle Repairs, $1,550, to the appropriation for B-5, Cartage and Freight, $120; B-18, Cleaning, $300; C-6, Stable Equipment, $500; D-7, Veterinary, $50; D-16, General Plant, $600.

From the appropriation for D-1, Office, to the appropriation for B-2, Postage, $7.80.

These transfers are necessary in order to meet the regular expenses under these items for the remainder of the year. Considerable cartage and freight charges had to be met this year, in fact we had one bill of $215 for carting cable. In regard to the cleaning, there has been more laundry work in the department this year than previously. The number of employees has increased, and each man is now supplied with his own bed linen, which has increased the number of pieces.

The department estimate for C-6, Stable Equipment, was cut $400 in the original estimate. Larger quantities of sponges and chamois were needed this year on account of the increase in motor apparatus. In the item for General Plant, D-16, the original estimate was cut $500. The amount of money requested is necessary to pay for the larger quantity of oil used this year.

Yours very truly,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

STREET LAYING-OUT DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 16, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Street Commissioners respectfully requests that the following transfer be made within the maintenance appropriation of the Street Laying-Out Department:

From the appropriation for B, Service Other than Personal, to the appropriation for D, Supplies.

From the appropriation for B-28, Expert and Architect, to the appropriation for D-1, Office, $105.20.

The cost of certain office supplies, petitions and renewal applications, for sidewalk, gasoline and pole locations, ordered during October and November, were underestimated in charges figured against this appropriation. These are all printing plant items and the D-1 appropriation is found to be $105.20 short of our requirements.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH F. SULLIVAN,
Secretary.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM OF THE CITY.

December 17, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN.—On April 26, 1921, the Finance Commission reported to the Mayor that on the first day of the present financial year, February 1, 1921, the City of Boston owed $1,800,000 more than was shown by the books of the Auditing Department, and recommended that the Mayor's financial statement to the City Council on February 7, 1921, to the effect that the city had a surplus of $3,817,250.61 at the beginning of this financial year, be revised. The Mayor replied in part as follows:

The point to be emphasized is that the Commission in its ill-advised communication failed to state that a compliance with its contention would have included the payment of fourteen months' invoices in the last year as well as thirteen months' payments to those employees paid on a monthly basis.

In this connection it may be of public interest to note that the commission's statement was further in error, as it included over $517,000 of school pay rolls, which, under the law, could not in any event be paid from the surplus stated, as the expenses of the School Department are separately provided for by state law.

Thereafter the Finance Commission continued the investigation of the system of accounting of the City Auditor's department and engaged Patterson, Teele and Dennis, accountants and auditors, to assist it.

The following facts seem now well established:

1. The authority given the treasurer of the city to pay current expenses of the financial year before the appropriations for the year are made has been misused.

2. This misuse of authority by the Treasurer has continued for twenty-five years, and has resulted in accumulating a present undisclosed debt of more than $3,000,000, for the payment of which no provision has been made.

3. The Corporation Counsel has rendered to the Finance Commission an opinion that this misuse of city funds by the treasurer is illegal.

4. This illegal use of funds, (a) has made one financial year overlap the next;

(b) has made it possible for heads of departments at the end of the financial year to show balances of unexpended appropriations when in fact no such balances existed;

(c) has destroyed the effect of those provisions of the charter amendments prohibiting expenditures in excess of appropriations and especially the penalty provided in section 16 of these amendments;

(d) has encouraged extravagance by heads of departments;

(e) and, except in the matter of salaries, has rendered the segregated budget of little or no effect.

5. The city had no surplus at the end of the last financial year and has had none for many years. On the contrary, for January next, the last month of the present financial year, there will not be legally available sufficient funds to pay the current bills against the city and the salaries of the city officials and employees. Funds for these purposes can be made legally available only by action of the Legislature.

6. The present auditing system of the city is a cash book system, with the result that the income receivable but uncollected, and liabilities incurred but unpaid, are not brought into account in arriving at the financial condition of the city at the end of the year.

7. It does not disclose the actual financial condition of the city at any time.

8. No information is available from the auditor's accounts as to whether or not any department ends its financial year with unpaid bills in excess of the amount of its authorized expenditures under the budget.

9. The monthly pay roll of the School Committee for January, 1921, was paid with money that had not been appropriated. This payment was not regularly entered in the books of the city until February 1, 1921.

The comments and recommendations of Patterson, Teele and Dennis and the opinion of Corporation Counsel Hill are annexed to this report.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That the February 1 draft be abolished and the City Treasurer be directed to observe the construction given by the Corporation Counsel to chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889.

2. That immediate steps be taken to obtain authority, if possible, from the Legislature to provide adequate funds to meet the cost of carrying on the business of the city and county for the remainder of the present financial year, which appears to be the only recourse left for the present predicament.

3. That the Mayor inform the School Committee of the necessity of providing similarly for its needs.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX A.—COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Comments.

The present accounting system of the city was inaugurated nearly a century ago, many years before the incumbency of the present City Auditor, who is held in high esteem because of his sterling character and long experience in city finance.

In the operation of the system the city's accounts are recorded upon the basis of receipts collected, and charges paid, and are not recorded on the basis of income actually accrued and expenditure actually incurred during a given period, with the result that income receivable but uncollected, and liabilities incurred but unpaid, are not brought into account in arriving at any so-called "surplus." Such a "surplus" represents merely the excess of income actually received during a year over the income estimated for that year, plus unexpended balances of appropriations. It is customarily anticipated that the city's estimated income, including taxes for a year, will meet the appropriations made for that year, plus the state taxes, assessments, etc. Consequently, if the income, plus unexpended appropriations, should prove to be less than the estimate there would be a deficit. No provision being made for unpaid liabilities, the precise financial condition of the city is not disclosed, and no information is available as to whether any department ends its financial year with unpaid bills that go beyond the amount of its authorized expenditure under the budget. In every year there have been outstanding obligations paid by the City Treasurer which were really in relation to a prior year, though not ascertained until the bills for the same were presented for payment, sometimes weeks or even months after the obligations were actually incurred. For example, on February 1, 1921, the first day of the current fiscal year, the City Auditor's draft for regular department appropriations then paid amounted to $1,137,953.19, the whole of which represented liabilities contracted in the preceding fiscal year. There were, of course, many other bills applying to that year which were paid through subsequent drafts of the ensuing year, but their amount could only be determined as a result of a detailed examination of all bills paid in the earlier months of the ensuing year. In this connection it should be noted that the School Department's pay rolls for services during the month of January, 1921, were really paid prior to the first of February but, as has been customary for several years, the City Treasurer carried these payments as "an advance" and charged them off on the February 1st draft of the new fiscal year. Obviously, all outstanding obligations at the end of the fiscal year ought to be offset by corresponding unexpired balances of appropriations.

While it is true that in each fiscal year of the city there have been charged expenditures for a period of twelve months, it is also apparent that under the present procedure (1) the city's annual financial condition is incorrectly stated; (2) The expenditures actually incurred by the city in each year are not clearly disclosed; and (3) the charges made against appropriations during a year may include items relating to a former year's appropriation, so that items for which appropriations have been made may become chargeable in an ensuing period to an appropriation not provided actually for them. This would seem to be contrary to section 16 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 which provides that "no official of said city (Boston), except in case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend intentionally in any fiscal year any sum in excess of the appropriations duly made in accordance with law, nor involve the city in any contract for the future payment of money in excess of such appropriations, except as provided in section six of this act. Any official who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or both."

It was not until April 11, 1921, that the Committee on City Appropriations reported the Appropriation Bill for the City and County for the fiscal year February 1, 1921, to January 31, 1922. Consequently, bills and pay rolls that were paid between February 1, 1921, and April 11, 1921, in advance of appropriations, would seem to have been paid under authority of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, which provides that "at the beginning of the financial year, to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them, until the city government shall otherwise order, expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds. Such expenditures and liabilities shall not exceed for each department one third the entire amount appropriated for the department the previous year, and shall be considered and reckoned as a part of the expenditures of, and the money paid therefor as a part of the appropriations for, the current financial year."

Recommendations.

Whenever the head of a city department authorizes any expenditure a record of that commitment, representing an obligation of the city, ought to be immediately available for the information of the Mayor, the City Treasurer and the City Auditor, in order that there may be maintained an accurate record of the city's financial condition and a current check upon the actual state of appropriations for current expenditures. It is noteworthy that in line with modern developments in civic accounting, many cities throughout the country, including cities in Massachusetts, have abandoned their former method of recording income merely as it is received and charges merely as they are paid, and have adopted the "accrual" basis of income and expenditure in their system of accounting and financial reports.

It is recommended, therefore, that the City of Boston's system of accounting and reporting should be established upon a fiscal year basis in fact and not merely in name, in order that all charges incurred by the city (whether paid or unpaid) may be brought into account in the fiscal year to which they relate, and in order that the actual status of departmental appropriations and of financial condition may be clearly and currently disclosed. On this basis the city's income should also be reported as it accrues for each year, and not merely as it is collected, so that, for example, all uncollected taxes may be brought into account for the year to which they actually relate, and special diligence directed to the collection of overdue taxes and assessments.

If the city's system of accounting and reporting were thus established upon an income and expenditure basis, it would be necessary for the City Auditor to be advised whenever an obligation were incurred by or on behalf of any city department, so that he could forthwith record the same as a charge against the appropriation provided for it, and as a liability or commitment assumed by the city. The practice of disregarding such contracts and commitments until a bill for the same (possibly belated) has been forwarded for approval by the department affected, would thus be abolished. In maintaining such revised system certain additional records would be required in the City Auditor's office, including a "Register of Appropriations, Contracts, and Open Market Orders" for each city department and appropriation sub-classification supplemented by an "Appropriation Ledger" for the same departmental sub-classification. The Register of Appropriations, Contracts and Open Market Orders would, of course, record the initial appropriation, as well as the transfers to and transfers from that appropriation, representing each sub-classification of the segregated budget for each department. The register would also record the "Reserve for Encumbrances," comprising the requisitions or orders placed by the departments. It would further show the disbursements made through approved bills against the designated appropriation, with the result that for each appropriation there would be currently disclosed "Balance of Appropriation," comprising:

(1) Balance unencumbered (i. e., not reserved against orders placed).

(2) Balance unexpended (i. e., the difference between original appropriation, plus or minus transfers on the one hand, and the disbursements made through approved bills, on the other hand).

The summarized totals of the entries in such register of appropriations, contracts, and open market orders, would be carried into a controlling "Appropriation Ledger" for each sub-classification of the Segregated Budget affected. Inasmuch as the majority of the commitments or purchase orders of the City Departments are made through three principal purveying departments of the city, viz.: (1) Supply Department, (2) Public Buildings Department, (3) Printing Department; the advices of requisitions, or purchase orders, to be sent to the City Auditor's Department would largely originate in one of those purveying departments, but, of course, copies of all orders placed by department heads outside of the three departments named should also be transmitted promptly to the City Auditor for record by him in the manner indicated above. Through such records the actual liabilities and commitments of the city would be clearly disclosed from day to day, and a continuous check would be maintained upon the status of each appropriation for current expenditures. Certain other changes of procedure, incidental to the inauguration of the system herein recommended for the City Auditor's Department, should form the subject of a more detailed examination and report.

In the meanwhile we desire to express our appreciation of the courtesy and attention shown us by the City Auditor in the course of the preliminary examination we have made.

Respectfully submitted,

PATTERSON, TEELE AND DENNIS,
Accountants and Auditors.

APPENDIX B.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 18, 1921.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman,
Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR,—In your letter of 2d November you requested my opinion whether section 6, chapter 266, Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 320, Acts of 1889, authorizes the City Treasurer to pay obligations brought over from the prior fiscal year in excess of the balances also brought over from the same year, before the annual appropriations are made.

The statute in question reads as follows:

The executive powers of said city, and all the executive powers now vested in the board of aldermen, as such, as surveyors of highways, county commissioners, or otherwise, shall be and hereby are vested in the mayor, to be exercised through the several officers and boards of the city in their respective departments, under his general supervision and control. Such officers and boards shall, in their respective departments, make all necessary contracts for the employment of labor, the supply of materials, and the construction, alteration and repair of all public works, and buildings, and have the entire care, custody and management of all public works, institutions, buildings and other property, and the direction and control of all the executive and administrative business of said city. They shall be at all times accountable for the proper discharge of their duties to the mayor, as the chief executive officer, whose duty it shall be to secure the honest, efficient and economical conduct of the entire executive and administrative business of the city, and the harmonious and concerted action of the different departments. Every contract made as aforesaid in which the amount involved exceeds two thousand dollars shall require the approval of the mayor before going into effect; and no expenditure shall be made nor liability incurred for any purpose beyond the appropriation duly made therefor.

Except that at the beginning of the financial year, to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them, until the city government shall otherwise order, expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds. Such expenditures and liabilities shall not exceed for each department, one-third the entire amount appropriated for the department the previous year, and shall be considered and reckoned as a part of the expenditures of and the money paid therefor as a part of the appropriations for, the current financial year.

the words of the second paragraph being those added by the amendment of 1889.

The question which you ask me is one of great importance and has received from me the most careful consideration. The language of the statutes in question and of the other legislation dealing with the city finances (see especially Charter Amendments, Statutes 1909, chapter 486, section 3) is far from clear and it has been the settled practice to treat the city finances, the obligations of the city and the appropriations for carrying on the various departments as if the financial year coincided with the calendar year. The expenses incurred in January of each year have been paid out of whatever moneys were available after the beginning of the succeeding fiscal year on the first of February without regard to their relation to the appropriation in which they were theoretically based. Only twelve months' expenses are paid in any one fiscal year, for the January before a fiscal year begins is paid in that fiscal year and the January at the end of a fiscal year is carried over to the next fiscal year. Thus the bills of January, 1920, were paid in the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1920, and the bills incurred in January, 1921, were paid in the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1921. I have not attempted to ascertain how this practice originated but it has existed without a break for the last twenty years, and during that time has been acquiesced in by every successive administration and by all branches of the city government.

In my judgment, however, the statutes do not warrant the established practice. The purpose of the City Charter and the amendments thereto, in connection with which the acts referred to must be read, is to limit the expenditure of the municipal officials of Boston to such amounts as have been appropriated by the Mayor and the City Council and to make it possible to know in each year for what the money raised by taxation has been spent, what are the amounts of such expenditures and what is the financial situation of the city. These purposes are to a great extent nullified if a construction be adopted which allows expenditures substantially in excess of an annual appropriation to be carried forward and paid out of the available funds in the succeeding fiscal year, even if no balance of the appropriation remains for that purpose. It is manifest that this would allow, by the simple process of holding back bills, the creation at the end of a fiscal year of a large apparent balance of free cash which had no real existence. It would allow an out-going administration, which might be corrupt or extravagant, to cripple an incoming administration by the creation of obligations, to meet which the outgoing administration left no available funds. It would make it substantially impossible at any given moment for any one to tell by the city's books and appropriations just what was its financial condition. It cannot be supposed that the Legislature intended any such results, and in spite of the clumsy wording of the amendment of 1889 its purpose is plainly apparent. That purpose was to allow the various departments, at the beginning of the financial year, to carry on the work which they were authorized to do during the interval that must necessarily elapse before the appropriations could be made. It must be read as authorizing only the payment of liabilities created after the new financial year has begun. Such is the fair interpretation of its language. The words "Except that the beginning of each fiscal year . . . until the city government shall otherwise order" limit the time when the granted authority shall be exercised. The words which follow "expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds" show just what authority is granted. They plainly refer to expenditures, liabilities or payments incurred after the beginning of the financial year. There is nothing in the act expressly referring to liabilities incurred before the financial year and the clause between the commas beginning in the second line "to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them" is obviously only intended to show the purpose of the expenditures, liabilities and payments authorized, namely, those required to carry on the current work of the department.

If I am correct in this opinion steps should be taken as promptly as possible to modify the existing practice. It must, however, be recognized that to make a change which will satisfy the law is not a simple matter. The provisions of the charter (1909, chapter 486, section 3) allowing the transfers in appropriations, the fact that all moneys remaining from the various appropriations have been considered as becoming part of the general funds of the city at the close of the financial year without regard to the outstanding obligations, and many other effects of the course which has been followed must be carefully considered. A radical change in long established usages, dealing with matters as complicated as the financial organization of a great city, however proper and advantageous it may be, cannot wisely be made suddenly nor without careful consideration of its practical effects. It is at least possible that some further ordinance, and it may be some further statute provisions will be desirable.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

RE SURPLUS.

BOSTON, December 21, 1921.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman,
The Finance Commission.

DEAR SIR,—Referring further to your recent report on the finances of the city, I desire to point out that your statement to the effect that there was no surplus at the end of the last financial year, although the Mayor claimed a surplus of $3,817,250, is not borne out by the facts.

The commission claimed that the city owed $1,800,000, including $517,000 for school pay rolls, which should have been paid from the income of the year then closed, consequently there was no surplus, but they failed to state that at that time there was outstanding uncollected taxes to the amount of over $6,000,000, which if set up against the liabilities would show a much larger surplus than the Mayor claimed, his statement referring only to the actual unappropriated cash in the treasury and not being a general statement of the financial condition of the city.

The statement that the present system has resulted in accumulating a present undisclosed debt of more than $3,000,000, has no foundation in fact.

If the contention is that it will require $3,000,000 in addition to the present balances of appropriation to pay all the bills incurred and pay rolls for services up to and including January 31, 1922, it can be stated that on the date of their report there were taxes and revenue uncollected amounting to over $11,000,000, which will not only meet the appropriations, state taxes, etc., for the year, but will leave a sufficient amount that can be appropriated, without additional legislation, except in the case of the schools, to care for all obligations incurred up to the end of the financial year and leave a very substantial balance.

The change of the method of city accounting suggested by the commission should receive very serious consideration. No consideration can be ailed, however, by a misrepresentation by the commission of the present financial condition of the city.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

RE GARBAGE CONTRACT.

Boston, December 20, 1921.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
15 Beacon street, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of December 19 to myself and to the members of the City Council is received, in which you request that approval of the contract with Coleman Brothers for the disposal of garbage should be postponed so that the matter may be acted upon by you when you take office, and I have transmitted the same to the Council.

Your request will receive my careful consideration. It is my earnest desire to in every way meet your wishes in regard to such action in the city government as will take effect in your administration, and you may be assured that so far as I believe is consistent with the public interest, I will do so.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

RE ACCOUNTING SYSTEM OF CITY.

Boston, December 22, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—In reply to your Honor's communication of the 21st instant the Finance Commission begs to state that the facts on which its last report was made were confirmed by the City Auditor, the accountants employed by the Commission, and the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston.

Your Honor's contention regarding the city's finances will be tested in the remaining weeks of the current financial year.

The Corporation Counsel has ruled that the City Treasurer cannot legally pay any bills that were incurred in the present financial year and charge them to next year's appropriations. If, therefore, from the appropriations made this year there is a sufficient balance to pay all the indebtedness of the city for this financial year, your Honor's contention is correct.

If, on the other hand, the city will not be able to pay all the bills of this financial year with the money appropriated, as the Finance Commission believes and has reported, a serious crisis is imminent and the time should now be used in devising ways and means so that the city employees may receive their salaries for January next, and those holding claims against the city may receive what is due them.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman,
COURTENAY GUILD,
JOHN F. MOORS,
JAMES M. MORRISON,
J. WALDO POND,
The Finance Commission.

Exports in American ships, 43.65 per cent of total in 1920; 36.61 per cent in 1919; 18.86 per cent in 1918. Imports in American ships, 42.02 per cent of total in 1920; 35.97 per cent in 1919; 27.82 per cent in 1918.

Net tonnage entered in 1920, total of 64,124,731, of which 50.10 per cent was American; cleared in 1920, 67,821,572, and 50.18 per cent American.

Boston's rank for many years as the second importing port changed to fourth place in 1917, Seattle taking second place and San Francisco third, probably due to war conditions. In 1918 Boston advanced to third place and was slightly behind Seattle. In 1919 it regained its former rank of second and held it in 1920.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF VOTING PRECINCTS.

In accordance with Chap. 636, Acts of 1920, the Election Commissioners have made a new division of the 26 wards, increasing the number of precincts from 221 to 274. This change was necessary because of the addition of women voters to the electorate, the intention of the law being to keep the precincts equalized, i. e., with 1,000 voters in each. Wds. 7, 8, 21 and 23 now have thirteen precincts instead of nine; Wds. 14, 17, 19, 20, 22 and 25 have twelve; Wds. 13, 15, 16, 18 and 24 contain eleven; Wds. 10, 11 and 12, ten; Wds. 1, 6, 9 and 26, nine; Wd. 2, eight; Wds. 3, 4 and 5, seven. Only six wards remain unchanged, viz., Wds. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 9.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Tuesday, December 6, 1921.

Meeting of the City Council, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., to continue the hearing in regard to the proposed garbage contract.

Miss I. B. Gilbreth, representing the South End Women's Club, protested against the approval of the proposed contract. She felt that it was not specific enough and that the city would probably get no better service under it than it is getting at the present time. The association approves of the reduction process, but feels that the city should own its own plant.

Public Works Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan spoke of the abnormal conditions which had existed during the last few years, which had caused the present contractor to try to throw up his contract and forfeit his bond. He had not been allowed to do this, because the commissioner felt that the continuance of the work by the city would involve too heavy expense. The Mayor's committee held nineteen meetings and had an examination made of the books of the present contractor; appointed an engineer-secretary and sent him to twenty-five or thirty of the largest cities in the country to investigate method of disposal. The result was the report made by that committee. As for publicity in the matter, the commissioner pointed out the fact that it had been commented upon and set forth at more or less length in all the leading engineering journals of the country. Every recognized expert in the handling and disposing of garbage and refuse knew the entire story. Because of high wages and prices the contractor has been losing between $20,000 and $25,000 a month. The commissioner did not try to defend garbage collection in the city. More frequent collections are desirable, but it would require more money to make them, and the necessary money has not been furnished. Educational and other methods would probably also be adopted which would result in better separation of garbage from other refuse. But that is a difficult question to deal with. You cannot arrest a whole community, and neglect in this matter at present is general. The commissioner felt that the dumping situation would be much better in the future, and that Coleman Brothers, a highly responsible concern, would live up to the terms of their contract. The reason for extra cost of garbage collection in Boston is that Boston does much more than is done in any of the other large cities, the men going into back yards and cellars to handle the stuff, whereas in other cities private individuals are expected to deliver the refuse at the curb. As for the present contractor, the Commissioner thought that until within a few years he had done a wonderful job, but that since then conditions had been against him, so much so that he would have withdrawn and forfeited his bond had he been allowed to do so. Mr. E. B. Rich, representing the Boston Hotel Association, criticised the situation that had prevented the hotelkeepers from delivering the cream of the garbage to their own outside farms or to outside farmers, a situation which he was now glad to say had been remedied by the passage of a law in the last session of the Legislature which allows the hotels to dispose of their garbage in that way and have it transported through the city.

Major Irwin S. Osborn, advisory engineer employed by Coleman Brothers, said it was perfectly feasible for Coleman Brothers to carry out the proposed contract in a proper manner, and that their reputation was such that he felt that they would do it. The contract itself, too, had teeth in it so there was no doubt that it would be enforced. He described the process which was to be employed.

The hearing was adjourned to Wednesday, December 7, at two o'clock p. m.

Wednesday, December 7, 1921.

Meeting of the City Council, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President WATSON in the chair, and a quorum present. The meeting was for the purpose of giving a continued hearing on the matter of the proposed contract with Coleman Brothers for the disposal of refuse.

Health Commissioner William C. Woodward urged the adoption of the contract in its present form, looking to responsibility for results rather than to particular devices or details which might lead to discussion and controversy. He believed that there should be a responsible representative of the city on Spectacle Island at all times; that much might be done in the way of proper separation by citizens through persuasion, co-operation and the appointment of additional inspectors, and that only occasional prosecutions would be necessary.

Mr. Ransom Rowe, representing the New England Contractors Association, and the head of the Rowe Contracting Company, thought Coleman Brothers were to be much commended for their courage and nerve in making the proposal they did. His own concern had looked into the matter and had given it up. As a matter of fact, the thing was so well advertised all over the country through the trade papers that everybody at all interested had ample opportunity to know about it. He spoke in terms of highest commendation of the responsibility and standing of Coleman Brothers.

Thomas J. Kenny, Esq., representing the Committee on Municipal and Metropolitan Affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, submitted for that committee a report setting forth the results of study of the proposition, and embodying at the end the following recommendations:

Recommendations.

"Your committee suggests that the Chamber make the following recommendations to the Mayor and City Council regarding the disposal of municipal waste:

"I. The proposed contract with Coleman Brothers, now pending before City Council, be rejected.

"II. The city secure the services of recognized sanitary engineers of national reputation experienced in the treatment of city waste, a careful study be made by these engineers of present methods of separation, collection and disposal; and recommendations be submitted showing how the most approved methods now known and practiced may be applied, with a view to making such changes as will secure for the city the best methods for efficient and sanitary treatment of its waste, and will bring separation, collection and disposal into closer relations with each other.

"III. Pending the report of the engineers, no contract be entered into.

"IV. Particular attention be paid to a study of the following:

"1. Means for strict enforcement of present sanitary ordinances, or such changes in the ordinances as are required to make them consistent with approved methods of disposal.

"2. Means for securing more frequent and more efficient collection service, with special reference to the advisability of abandoning contract collection and adopting uniform collection by city forces.

"3. Whether the interest of the city would be better served by the ownership of an up-to-date reduction plant by the city, and contract operation.

"4. Whether refuse disposal should be divorced from garbage disposal and handled by separate contract or by city operation.

"5. Whether it is advisable for the city to obligate itself definitely in a disposal contract to collect garbage and refuse as provided in the city ordinances.

"6. If it is recommended that the city proceed under the present plan of private ownership and operation, whether the following provisions should be made:

"(a.) Arbitration of prices in any long-term contract, after the first half of the term has been completed.

"(b.) Absolute prohibition against dumping of garbage mixed with refuse; and specific provisions in the contract for incineration, or the so-called 'land-fill' method of disposal, of all material which is delivered to the disposal contractor unseparated.

"(c.) Better protection for the city in eliminating odors and in securing sanitary operation at the reduction plant, by means of such provisions in the contract as more detailed specifications or the requirements that recognized methods shall be used, or that methods shall be changed if found unsatisfactory."

Miss Anna M. Niland of East Boston objected to the conditions which had been in force in the last ten years at the East Boston dump and strenuously opposed any chance of their continuance. They have resulted in nuisance and sickness in the district. The present contract was supposed to protect citizens against such conditions, but has not done so, and the citizens seriously doubt whether the proposed contract will offer any protection. They feel also that a contract for as long a term as ten years is unwise; that there should be the fullest investigation and that every means should be adopted to protect the people of the district in the event of the continuance of dumping of the refuse there.

Mrs. Robert A. Woods, for the Women's Municipal League, counseled delay and further consideration of the whole matter, feeling particularly that the matter of dumps is not adequately covered in the proposed contract. At the present time there is also lack of men for co-operation between the different departments in the matter of dealing with nuisances, with the result that one complaining to one department is apt to be sent along to another. There should be a definite placing of responsibility.

Mrs. Amelia Massa, representing the Blackinton Mothers' Club, repeated her objection, as stated at previous hearings, to continuance of the nuisance conditions at the East Boston dump.

Mr. William H. Sayward, as secretary of the Master Builders' Association and individually, spoke in high terms of the reputation, standing and responsibility of Coleman Brothers.

Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan submitted reading matter from trade magazines—"Public Works" and the "Engineering News-Record"—showing that ample publicity in the matter of the proposed contract had been given to the trade.

The meeting was adjourned at 5.05 p. m., to Friday, December 9, at 2 p. m.

Friday, December 9, 1921.

Meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President Watson in the chair and a quorum present. The meeting was for the purpose of giving a continued hearing on the matter of the proposed contract with Coleman Brothers for the disposal of refuse.

Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan said that the lack of separation, which had been complained of at length, was largely a matter of nonobservance and lack of enforcement of existing regulations, which could only be enforced through an adequate appropriation of money for inspectors, and so forth, and through the education and co-operation of the public. He felt that the Coleman contract was a good one for the city to enter into and that it meant the saving of considerable money to the city as compared with the bid of the present contractor. As for the matter having been brought to the attention of the trade throughout the country, he repeated that this had been done through the reading columns of the leading trade journals. He felt that if the city were to take advantage of its option and provide the plant, and get a contractor to run it, there would be a divided responsibility which should not exist in such a contract; that if the city is going to own the plant it should operate it; if the contractor is going to operate the plant he should own it.

Maj. Irwin S. Osborn, the consulting engineer of Coleman Brothers, felt that the matter of collection and separation was really up to the city. As for municipal operation, he said that, while there were cases of good and bad operation by municipalities, he knew of no municipally operated plant, which could not be operated more economically under private operation. The city must satisfy itself whether it can go out and operate in a business way on the same basis that a private company can operate. The fundamental fact is that not one of the municipal enterprises has been able to show the low operating results shown under private operation.

Mr. John F. Coleman, of Coleman Brothers, stated the history of his company that the business had been built up for twenty-five years and that the keynote had been for service and the performance of its agreement, and that the company proposed to carry out the contract in a proper manner in this case. He felt that his company could do the job to the entire satisfaction of the people of Boston, stating that it is a Boston concern and that it takes pride in the city. He also stated that there are ways to eliminate odors or reduce them to a minimum on dumps, and that he would certainly employ those ways.

Mr. Guy C. Emerson appeared for the Finance Commission, and stated that the commission had found in an investigation nothing to indicate dishonesty, interference or influence in connection with the work of the committee appointed by Mayor Peters. He said that members of the Chamber and others had an opportunity, if they had wished to do so, to appear before the Mayor's committee and state their views in regard to the matter, that if they had asked to be heard they would have been welcomed. The recommendations of the committee of the Chamber, at least by inference, insult the intelligence of all the members of the Mayor's committee and the technical skill of Professor Turner, Doctor Woodward and the speaker. The work of the Mayor's committee was carried on simply with the idea of finding out what was the best result in the interests of the city and the citizens, and the report was the report of representative men, and of men who sought the best advice obtainable before forming a judgment. He felt that much of the complaint of violation of the city ordinances with regard to separation is because of the character of the receptacles in which the materials are kept.

Mr. F. W. Merrick, representing the Chamber, asked that time be allowed to digest what had been put in and to make such answer as deemed advisable.

Mr. Thomas J. Gible, representing the East Boston Realty Association, repeated the objections he had stated at a previous hearing to the manner in which dumping was done in East Boston, but said that he had somewhat modified his views, feeling that if something could be done which improved the condition of the material dumped, that the dumping itself might be of service to the community in adding available land to the section. He did feel, however, that stricter safeguards should be imposed on the dumping, so that the nuisance now existing should not continue.

The hearing was adjourned to 5.40 p. m., to Wednesday, December 14, at two o'clock p. m.

Wednesday, December 14, 1921.

Meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m. President WATSON in the chair and a quorum present. The meeting was for the purpose of giving a continued hearing on the matter of the proposed contract with Coleman Brothers for the disposal of refuse.

Mr. F. W. Merrick appeared for the United Improvement Association, and said that today he was not speaking for the Chamber of Commerce, which was working upon the problem and which intended to submit something later. He stated that in anything he had said, either personally or in a representative character, no reflection on the honesty of the men interested in the contract could be implied, and that no ear was given to any rumors of graft. The men are widely and well known, and everybody holds them in the highest honor and respect, and this includes Coleman Brothers, the Mayor's committee, the Mayor and the opponents of this measure. All are working for the common welfare and everybody feels that they are giving their best. But it is felt that the situation is one that requires very careful study, and that it is very questionable whether as a matter of public policy such a long-term contract is to be entered into at this time without most earnest thought and consideration. While not questioning the good faith of the men favoring the proposed contract, we do question their judgment. It is a one-sided contract, and such a contract is never for the advantage of either party. The one party evades his duty and the other party has to charge extra for the risk, and you do not get the job you should in either case, as any man with business experience knows. He believed it would be for the advantage of the city to own an efficient plant for the handling of the job, because under present conditions we buy the plant periodically and never own it, and it is not for the advantage for any one to give us an efficient plant. There is a serious question whether the city should attempt to operate; but if you have an efficient plant it can, if necessary, be operated by the city for a year or two, and the city can then make up its mind whether it is better to do the work in that way. The Improvement Association does feel that the proposed price under the contract is excessive and that no long-time contract should be made under such abnormal conditions as exist at present. It might be well, if a ten-year contract is to be made, to provide in it that there shall be a revision of price by arbitration at the end of five years.

Mr. H. S. Upham, for the South End Improvement Society, felt that a great deal more study should be given to the subject before entering into such a contract as that proposed. There are alternatives, some of which were suggested in the reports of the special committees appointed by Mayor Hibbard some years ago, and Mr. Upham quoted from those reports. If dumping is to be done, he felt that a clause should be inserted in the contract compelling the bidder to cover over any refuse or material that might be deposited on any inland dump, with the approval of the Health Commissioner, at least two feet deep with clean, dry ashes, or clean, dry dirt, gravel or loam. That might in a measure eliminate existing nuisance conditions at such dumps, although he did not know whether the Health Commissioner would consider it an absolute cure. He also felt that the method in vogue in Buffalo, Rochester, Cleveland and some other large cities, might be carefully considered. Buffalo, for instance, has maintained a reclamation plant for several years and furnished steam to an adjoining pumping station, and that plant, he understood, paid its running expenses, besides furnishing labor to men. Then there is the New Bedford plant, a drying process, where raw garbage collected by contractors is put through a heating process of hot air which dries the garbage sufficiently so that it can be packed in an adjoining building, or a portion of the same building, for several weeks without giving an offensive odor. After being dried it is reduced to merchantable grease by the Cobwell process. So there are available processes which would eliminate the Spectacle Island plant entirely.

In answer to questions by Coun. Hagan, Public Works Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan said that while the suggestion in regard to using certain parts of the garbage for hog feeding might have reduced the expense under the contract, a serious question arose whether, in hog feeding beyond a certain point, an additional nuisance in connection with the hogs themselves might not arise. Also, taking into consideration the condition in which much of the garbage is received, it is unsafe to feed it to hogs or to any other animals. He knew of no big city in the country where the garbage was fed to hogs. No matter what methods are adopted for disposal of garbage, there will be complaints in some direction, and it will be impossible to eliminate it. Nobody wants a dump or an incinerating station in his neighborhood. As to the hog feeding, it was tried in Baltimore, and in the present year the contractor walked off, threw up the sponge, and most of the hogs died overnight. The garbage piled up for weeks before they could dispose of it, and there was a terrible condition, so that they are going to put in a reduction plant the 1st of January.

Sewall C. Brackett, Esq., stated for the Coleman Company that they would be entirely willing to adopt any process suggested either by the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Merrick, Mr. Upham or anybody else, which they will file in the form of a letter, which has the approval of the Public Works Department. Anything that will help Mr. Coleman is perfectly willing to do, no matter at whose suggestion.

A letter was received from Thomas J. Kenny, Esq., on behalf of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce having the matter in charge, requesting further opportunity to file additional information in a further communication before the Council passes upon the proposed contract in executive session.

This closed the hearings.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a self-explanatory statement just received from the Law Department relative to the conveyance of certain parcels of land in order to effect the city's title to certain property taken for street purposes. I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, by an order approved September 21, 1921, widened Liberty square, Boston, by taking for street purposes two small parcels of land, one containing thirteen square feet and another two square feet, and discontinued the use for highway purposes of two other parcels, one containing fifteen square feet and the other a tiny parcel containing less than one square foot.

To straighten out the title to the premises, the owners are willing to convey to the city for street purposes the two parcels of thirteen and two square feet respectively, if the city will convey to the owners the two parcels containing respectively fifteen square feet and less than one square foot. If this exchange be made, no damages will have to be paid to the owners by the city.

The inclosed order will accomplish this exchange.

Yours very truly,

ARTHUR D. HILL,

Corporation Counsel.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized and empowered in the name and behalf of the city to release and quitclaim unto the New England Trust Company, trustee, by deed of trust for the time being in the United States of the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited, its successors and assigns, all the right, title and interest of the city, if any it has, in and to, two certain parcels or strips of land on Liberty square in Boston, one parcel containing fifteen (15) square feet, and the other parcel containing less than (1) square foot, being the lands described as discontinued as parts of Liberty square, by an order of the Board of Street Commissioners of said city, approved by the Mayor September 21, 1921; said conveyances to be in form satisfactory to the Law Department and to be made when and if said New England Trust Company, trustee as aforesaid, shall in form satisfactory to the Law Department convey to said city for street purposes two parcels or strips of land, one containing thirteen (13) square feet, the other containing two (2) square feet, described in said order, as taken for the widening of said Liberty square, and shall release said city from all claims for damages by reason of such taking: all of said lands are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Liberty square, Boston proper, August 30, 1921, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-Out Department," and deposited in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department of said city.

LOCKER BUILDING, GRAMPIAN WAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 2, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a copy of a communication just received from the Park Department in reply to your order of September 26, relative to the cost of a locker building on Gramplan way.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Park Department, November 30, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of September 28, with inclosure from the City Council asking the advisability and cost of a locker building on Gramplan way, adjoining the tennis courts in the Savin Hill section of Dorchester.

In reply I beg to state, as to the advisability, I would report against it, on account of the initial cost, and also the large expenditure for annual upkeep. The bath house building at Savin Hill Beach and McConnell Park seems to be quite sufficient for the use of that neighborhood.

A suitable building could be erected for $20,000, the annual upkeep of which would be $4,000 for janitor and matron service, fuel, electricity, etc. This would serve only a few people who use the three or four tennis courts in the neighborhood.

Very respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

Placed on file.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of October 26, 1921, inclosing an order from the City Council, asking for an estimate on the cost of extending and improving the Christopher Lee Playground (formerly M Street Playground), and submit the following report from our engineer:

Size of baseball field, 310 feet by 286 feet.
600 cubic yards concrete retaining wall at $15.....	$9,000
7,000 cubic yards earth excavation at $1.25.....	8,750
1,600 cubic yards loam surface, entire field at $1.50.....	2,400
1,200 linear feet 9-foot high baseball fence at $2.25.....	2,700
Miscellaneous, relocating pipes, conduits, etc., on Second street.....	2,150
Total.....	$25,000
Concrete bleachers on the East Second street side of Independence square, to seat 3,200 persons.....	15,000

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF CITY.

The following was received:

Boston, December 17, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council: Gentlemen,—On April 26, 1921, the Finance Commission reported to the Mayor that on the first day of the present financial year, February 1, 1921, the City of Boston owed $1,800,000 more than was shown by the books of the Auditing Department, and recommended that the Mayor's financial statement to the City Council on February 7, 1921, to the effect that the city had a surplus of $3,817,250.61 at the beginning of this financial year, be revised. The Mayor replied in part as follows:

"The point to be emphasized is, that the commission in its ill-advised communication failed to state that a compliance with its contention would have included the payment of fourteen months' invoices in the last year as well as thirteen months' payments to those employees paid on a monthly basis."

"In this connection it may be of public interest to note, that the commission's statement was further in error, as it included over $517,000 of school pay rolls, which, under the law, could not in any event be paid from the surplus stated, as the expenses of the School Department are separately provided for by state law."

Thereafter the Finance Commission continued the investigation of the system of accounting of the City Auditor's department and engaged Patterson, Teele and Dennis, accountants and auditors, to assist it.

The following facts seem now well established:

1. The authority given the treasurer of the city to pay current expenses of the financial year before the appropriations for the year are made has been misused.

2. This misuse of authority by the treasurer has continued for twenty-five years, and has resulted in accumulating a present undiscovered debt of more than $3,000,000, for the payment of which no provision has been made.

3. The Corporation Counsel has rendered to the Finance Commission an opinion that this misuse of city funds by the treasurer is illegal.

4. This illegal use of funds—

(a) has made one financial year overlap the next;

(b) has made it possible for heads of departments at the end of the financial year to show balances of unexpended appropriations when in fact no such balances existed;

(c) has destroyed the effect of those provisions of the charter amendments prohibiting expenditures in excess of appropriations and especially the penalty provided in section 16 of these amendments;

(d) has encouraged extravagance by heads of departments;

(e) and, except in the matter of salaries, has rendered the segregated budget of little or no effect.

5. The city had no surplus at the end of the last financial year and has had none for many years. On the contrary, for January next, the last month of the present financial year, there will not be legally available sufficient funds to pay the current bills against the city and the salaries of the city officials and employees. Funds for these purposes can be made legally available only by action of the Legislature.

6. The present auditing system of the city is a cash book system, with the result that the income receivable but uncollected, and liabilities incurred but unpaid, are not brought into account in arriving at the financial condition of the city at the end of the year.

7. It does not disclose the actual financial condition of the city at any time.

8. No information is available from the auditor's accounts as to whether or not any department ends its financial year with unpaid bills in excess of the amount of its authorized expenditures under the budget.

9. The monthly pay roll of the School Committee for January, 1921, was paid with money that had not been appropriated. This payment was not regularly entered in the books of the city until February 1, 1921.

The comments and recommendations of Patterson, Teele and Dennis and the opinion of Corporation Counsel Hill are annexed to this report.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That the February 1st draft be abolished and the City Treasurer be directed to observe the construction given by the Corporation Counsel to chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889.

2. That immediate steps be taken to obtain authority, if possible, from the Legislature to provide adequate funds to meet the cost of carrying on the business of the city and county, for the remainder of the present financial year, which appears to be the only resources left for the present predicament.

3. That the Mayor inform the School Committee of the necessity of providing similarly for its needs.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman,

COURTENAY GUILD,

JOHN F. MOORS,

JAMES M. MORRISON,

J. WALDO POND,

The Finance Commission.

APPENDIX A.

Comments and Recommendations.

Comments.

The present accounting system of the city was inaugurated nearly a century ago, many years before the incumbency of the present City Auditor, who is held in high esteem because of his sterling character and long experience in city finance.

In the operation of the system the city's accounts are recorded upon the basis of receipts collected and charges paid, and are not recorded on the basis of income actually accrued and expenditures actually incurred during a given period, with the result that income receivable but uncollected, and liabilities incurred but unpaid, are not brought into account in arriving at any so-called "surplus." Such a "surplus" represents merely the excess of income actually received during a year over the income estimated for that year, plus unexpended balances of appropriations. It is customarily anticipated that the city's estimated income, including taxes for a year, will meet the appropriations made for that year, plus the state taxes, assessments, etc. Consequently, if the income, plus unexpended appropriations, should prove to be less than the estimate there would be a deficit. No provision being made for unpaid liabilities, the precise financial condition of the city is not disclosed, and no information is available as to whether any department ends its financial year with unpaid bills that go beyond the amount of its authorized expenditure under the budget. In every year there have been outstanding obligations paid by the City Treasurer which were really in relation to a prior year, though not ascertained until the bills for the same were presented for payment, sometimes weeks or even months after the obligations were actually incurred. For example, on February 1, 1921, the first day of the current fiscal year, the City Auditor's draft for regular department appropriations then paid amounted to $1,137,953.19, the whole of which represented liabilities contracted in the preceding fiscal year. There were, of course, many other bills applying to that year which were paid through subsequent draft of the ensuing year, but their amount could only be determined as a result of a detailed examination of all bills paid in the earlier months of the ensuing year. In this connection it should be noted that the School Department's pay rolls for services during the month of January, 1921, were really paid prior to the 1st of February but, as has been customary for several years, the City Treasurer carried these payments as "an advance" and charged them off on the February 1st draft of the new fiscal year. Obviously, all outstanding obligations at the end of the fiscal year ought to be offset by corresponding unexpired balances of appropriations.

While it is true that in each fiscal year of the city there have been charged expenditures for a period of twelve months, it is also apparent that under the present procedure (1) the city's annual financial condition is incorrectly stated; (2) the expenditures actually incurred by the city in each year are not clearly disclosed; and (3) the charges made against appropriations during a year may include items relating to a former year's appropriations, so that items for which appropriations have been made may become chargeable in an ensuing period to an appropriation not provided actually for them. This would seem to be contrary to section 16 of chapter 456 of the Acts of 1909, which provides that "no official of said city (Boston), except in case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend intentionally in any fiscal year any sum in excess of the appropriations duly made in accordance with law, nor involve the city in any contract for the future payment of money in excess of such appropriation, except as provided in section 6 of this act. Any official who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or both."

It was not until April 11, 1921, that the Committee on City Appropriation reported the Appropriation Bill for the city and county for the fiscal year February 1, 1921, to January 31, 1922. Consequently, bills and pay rolls that were paid between February 1, 1921, and April 11, 1921, in advance of appropriations, would seem to have been paid under authority of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, which provides that "at the beginning of the financial year, to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them, until the city government shall otherwise order, expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds. Such expenditures and liabilities shall not exceed for each department, one third the entire amount appropriated for the department the previous year, and shall be considered and reckoned as a part of the expenditures of and the money paid therefor as a part of the appropriations for, the current financial year."

Recommendations.

Whenever the head of a city department authorizes any expenditure a record of that commitment, representing an obligation of the city, ought to be immediately available for the information of the Mayor, the City Treasurer and the City Auditor, in order that there may be maintained an accurate record of the city's financial condition and a current check upon the actual state of appropriations for current expenditures. It is noteworthy that in line with modern developments in civic accounting, many cities throughout the country, including cities in Massachusetts, have abandoned their former method of recording income merely as it is received and charges merely as they are paid, and have adopted the "accrual" basis of income and expenditure in their system of accounting and financial reports.

It is recommended, therefore, that the City of Boston's system of accounting and reporting should be established upon a fiscal year basis in fact and not merely in name, in order that all charges incurred by the city (whether paid or unpaid) may be brought into account in the fiscal year to which they relate, and in order that the actual status of departmental appropriations and of financial condition may be clearly and currently disclosed. On this basis the city's income should also be reported as it accrues for each year, and not merely as it is collected, so that, for example, all uncollected taxes may be brought into account for the year to which they actually relate, and special diligence directed to the collection of overdue taxes and assessments.

If the city's system of accounting and reporting were thus established upon an income and expenditure basis, it would be necessary for the City Auditor to be advised whenever an obligation were incurred by, or on behalf of, any city department, so that he could forthwith record the same as a charge against the appropriation provided for it, and as a liability or commitment assumed by the city. The practice of disregarding such contracts and commitments until a bill for the same (possibly belated) has been forwarded for approval by the department affected, would thus be abolished. In maintaining such revised system certain additional records would be required in the City Auditor's office, including a "Register of Appropriations, Contracts, and Open Market Orders" for each city department and appropriation sub-classification supplemented by an "Appropriation Ledger" for the same departmental sub-classification. The register of appropriations, contracts and open market orders would, of course, record the initial appropriation, as well as the transfers to and transfers from that appropriation, representing each sub-classification of the segregated budget for each department. The register would also record the "Reserve for Encumbrances", comprising the requisitions or orders placed by the departments. It would further show the disbursements made through approved bills against the designated appropriation, with the result that for each appropriation there would be currently disclosed "Balance of Appropriation", comprising:

(1.) Balance unencumbered (i. e., not reserved against orders placed).

(2.) Balance unexpended (i. e., the difference between original appropriation, plus or minus transfers on the one hand, and the disbursements made through approved bills, on the other hand.

The summarized totals of the entries in such register of appropriations, contracts, and open market orders, would be carried into a controlling "Appropriation Ledger" for each sub-classification of the segregated budget affected. Inasmuch as the majority of the commitments or purchase orders of the city departments, but, of course, copies of all purveying departments of the city, viz.: (1) Supply Department, (2) Public Buildings Department, (3) Printing Department, the advices of requisitions, or purchase orders, to be sent to the City Auditor's Department would largely originate in one of those purveying departments, but, of course, copies of all orders placed by department heads outside of the three departments named should also be transmitted promptly to the City Auditor for record by him in the manner indicated above. Through such records the actual liabilities and commitments of the city would be clearly disclosed from day to day, and a continuous check would be maintained upon the status of each appropriation for current expenditures. Certain other changes of procedure, incidental to the inauguration of the system herein recommended for the City Auditor's Department, should form the subject of a more detailed examination and report.

In the meanwhile we desire to express our appreciation of the courtesy and attention shown us by the City Auditor in the course of the preliminary examination we have made.

Respectfully submitted,

PATTERSON, TEELE AND DENNIS,
Accountants and Auditors.

APPENDIX B.

City of Boston,

Law Department, December 18, 1921.

Hon. Michael H. Sullivan, Chairman, Finance Commission,

Dear Sir,—In your letter of November 2 you requested my opinion whether section 6, chapter 266, Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 320, Acts of 1889, authorizes the City Treasurer to pay obligations brought over from the prior fiscal year in excess of the balances also brought over from the same year, before the annual appropriations are made.

The statute in question reads as follows:

"The executive powers of said city, and all the executive powers now vested in the board of aldermen, as such, as surveyors of highways, county commissioners or otherwise, shall be and hereby are vested in the mayor, to be exercised through the several officers and boards of the city in their respective departments, under his general supervision and control. Such officers and boards shall, in their respective departments, make all necessary contracts for the employment of labor, the supply of materials, and the construction, alteration and repair of all public works and buildings, and have the entire care, custody and management of all public works, institutions, buildings and other property, and the direction and control of all the executive and administrative business of said city. They shall be at all times accountable for the proper discharge of their duties to the mayor, as the chief executive officer, whose duty it shall be to secure the honest, efficient and economical conduct of the entire executive and administrative business of the city, and the harmonious and concerted action of the different departments. Every contract made as aforesaid in which the amount involved exceeds two thousand dollars shall require the approval of the mayor before going into effect; and no expenditure shall be made nor liability incurred for any purpose beyond the appropriation duly made therefor.

"Except that at the beginning of the financial year, to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them, until the city government shall otherwise order, expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds. Such expenditures and liabilities shall not exceed for each department, one-third the entire amount appropriated for the department the previous year, and shall be considered and reckoned as a part of the expenditures of and the money paid therefor as a part of the appropriations for, the current financial year."

the words of the second paragraph being those added by the amendment of 1889.

The question which you ask me is one of great importance and has received from me the most careful consideration. The language of the statutes in question and of the other legislation dealing with the city finances (see especially Charter Amendments, Statutes 1909, chapter 486, section 3) is far from clear and it has been the settled practice to treat the city finances, the obligations of the city and the appropriations for carrying on the various departments as if the financial year coincided with the calendar year. The expenses incurred in January of each year have been paid out of whatever moneys were available after the beginning of the succeeding fiscal year on the first of February without regard to their relation to the appropriation in which they were theoretically based. Only twelve months' expenses are paid in any one fiscal year, for the January before a fiscal year begins is paid in that fiscal year and the January at the end of a fiscal year is carried over to the next fiscal year. Thus the bills of January, 1920, were paid in the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1920, and the bills incurred in January, 1921, were paid in the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1921. I have not attempted to ascertain how this practice originated but it has existed without a break for the last twenty years, and during that time has been acquiesced in by every successive administration and by all branches of the city government.

In my judgment, however, the statutes do not warrant the established practice. The purpose of the City Charter and the amendments thereto, in connection with which the acts referred to must be read, is to limit the expenditure of the municipal officials of Boston to such amounts as have been appropriated by the Mayor and the City Council and to make it possible to know in each year for what the money raised by taxation has been spent, what are the amounts of such expenditures and what is the financial situation of the city. These purposes are to a great extent nullified if a construction be adopted which allows expenditures substantially in excess of an annual appropriation to be carried forward and paid out of the available funds in the succeeding fiscal year, even if no balance of the appropriation remains for that purpose. It is manifest that this would allow, by the simple process of holding back bills, the creation at the end of a fiscal year of a large apparent balance of free cash which had no real existence. It would allow an outgoing administration, which might be corrupt or extravagant, to cripple an incoming administration by the creation of obligations, to meet which the outgoing administration left no available funds. It would make it substantially impossible at any given moment for any one to tell by the city's books and appropriations just what was its financial condition. It cannot be supposed that the Legislature intended any such results, and in spite of the clumsy wording of the amendment of 1889 its purpose is plainly apparent. That purpose was to allow the various departments, at the beginning of the financial year, to carry on the work which they were authorized to do during the interval that must necessarily elapse before appropriations could be made. It must be read as authorizing only the payment of liabilities created after the new financial year has begun. Such is the fair interpretation of its language. The words "Except that at the beginning of each fiscal year . . . until the city government shall otherwise order" limit the time when the granted authority shall be exercised. The words which follow "expenditures may be made, liabilities may be incurred and payments made from the treasury from any funds therein, and the treasurer may borrow money in anticipation of taxes to provide funds" show just what authority is granted. They plainly refer to expenditures, liabilities or payments incurred after the beginning of the financial year. There is nothing in the act expressly referring to liabilities incurred before the financial year and the clause between the commas beginning in the second line "to meet the liabilities of the several departments incurred in the carrying on of the work entrusted to them" is obviously only intended to show the purpose of the expenditures, liabilities and payments authorized, namely, those required to carry on the current work of the departments.

If I am correct in this opinion steps should be taken as promptly as possible to modify the existing practice. It must, however, be recognized that to make a change which will satisfy the law is not a simple matter. The provisions of the charter (1909, chapter 486, section 3) allowing the transfers in appropriations, the fact that all moneys remaining from the various appropriations have been considered as becoming part of the general funds of the city at the close of the financial year without regard to the outstanding obligations, and many other effects of the course which has been followed must be carefully considered. A radical change in long established usages, dealing with matters as complicated as the financial organization of a great city, however proper and advantageous it may be, cannot wisely be made suddenly nor without careful consideration of its practical effects. It is at least possible that some further ordinance, and it may be some further statute provisions will be desirable.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL, Corporation Counsel.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Additions to Charles Street Jail.

On December 22 to Coblo & Griffin as per following communication:

BOSTON, December 21, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I wish to advise you of the following facts:

On December 2, 1919, a contract was awarded to Langan & Shaw Construction Company, in the sum of $248,500, for erection and completion of an addition to the Charles Street Jail. Said work according to their specifications should have been completed within fifteen months' time. The work has been dragging along ever since and there have been numerous liens filed with the city against said work, with the result that it has been evident to me that they were unable to complete the work according to their plans and specifications.

I therefore have taken the contract away from them and in order that the work may be carried on to completion, I requested eight reputable builders to submit figures to me for the completion of this work according to the original plans and specifications.

I received six bids which I opened today, as follows:

Coblo & Griffin, $81,800; M. Seretto, $83,483; Archdeacon & Sullivan, $96,675; Fitzgerald-Keating Construction Company, $99,438; J. M. and C. J. Buckley Company, $107,979; C. A. Dodge Company, $115,199.

You will observe that the lowest bidder is Messrs. Coblo & Griffin, and feeling satisfied that the city's interests will be best served by awarding this contract to Messrs. Coblo & Griffin, I respectfully request permission to do so, in the sum of $81,800, without the usual form of advertising.

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

BOSTON, December 6, 1921.

MR. JEREMIAH E. BURKE, Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners thinks it advisable to take, for extension of the yard of the Julia Ward Howe School, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Julia Ward Howe District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of Maple Park, thence southwesterly by land of Allen 45 feet to land of Rumrill; thence turning and running northwesterly by land of Rumrill, Thomas and Rumrill 55 feet to land of Lovejoy; thence turning and running northeasterly by land of Lovejoy 37 feet to land of Felton; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of Felton and line of Maple Park 54 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 2,045 square feet of land. PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I respectfully request permission to designate Edward F. Murphy, Division Engineer of the Sewer and Sanitary Division, as Acting Commissioner of Public Works and Acting Commissioner for Boston of the Boston and Cambridge Bridges during such time as I may be absent in the four weeks commencing this date.

NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE.

BOSTON, December 20, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Committee on New Sources of Revenue made the following recommendations in relation to permit fees in the Wire Division of this department:

First. That the fees for work permits be increased from 25 cents to $1, or an increase of 75 cents. Of this additional amount, 25 cents would cover the proposed increase in the existing minimum fee, and 50 cents would cover the charges for turning on current, formerly paid by the electrical companies, but discontinued in 1918 because of the difficulties in enforcement and the delays involved in collecting the fees.

Second. That the fee for the alteration and relocation of electrical installations be made the same as for new work, instead of a half fee as at present.

Third. That a fee of 75 cents be established for the inspection of corrected defective work, for which no fee is charged at the present time.

In relation to the first recommendation I would say that since February 1, 1921, the cost of all permits was increased 50 cents, which took the place of the charge for turning on current formerly paid by the electrical companies. The cost of inspections has increased, and therefore I would recommend that the minimum charge be placed at 50 cents, which, with the turning on fee, would equal $1. I also favor the second and third recommendations of the committee. Under chapter 571 of the Acts of 1910 and chapter 262 of the Special Acts of 1915, the Fire Commissioner has the power to establish reasonable fees for electrical wiring subject to the approval of the Mayor.

With your approval, therefore, I will adopt the changes recommended in the above mentioned paragraphs.

Yours very truly,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

Approved December 27, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

RE DEPUTY SEALERS.

BOSTON, December 29, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Finance Commission has made an investigation of the ordinance

now pending before you for approval which increases the number of deputy sealers in the Weights and Measures Department from twelve to thirteen.

The commission has found that there is no need for the additional position. There has been a vacancy in the position of deputy sealer in the department for fully two years and the department has not found it necessary to fill it.

The department has not made a request for the increase in the number of positions of deputy sealers.

The Finance Commission therefore recommends that your Honor veto the ordinance.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

RE ACCOUNTING SYSTEM OF CITY.

December 24, 1921.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION, 410 Tremont Building, Boston:

GENTLEMEN,—I am in receipt of your letter of December 22 in further reference to your report on the accounting system in use by the City of Boston. In your letter of December 22 the following paragraph appears:

"In reply to your Honor's communication of the 21st instant, the Finance Commission begs to state that the facts on which its last report was made were confirmed by the City Auditor, the accountants employed by the commission, and the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston."

This morning I received a letter from J. Alfred Mitchell, City Auditor, commenting on the above quoted paragraph. The letter, from the Auditor addressed to me, is as follows:

"In respect to the letter of the Finance Commission, dated December 22 and addressed to you, in which they state the facts on which their last report was based, were confirmed by the City Auditor, I wish to say that I have always insisted that the statement made by you as to the surplus at the end of the last financial year was correct, and I still say so. I also wish to say that the statements made in your last communication to the Finance Commission were entirely correct."

I am calling this letter from Mr. Mitchell to your attention, as I believe it should be a matter of record.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

ASSESSED VALUATION AND TAX RATE OF BOSTON.

Assessed valuation as of April 1, 1920, $1,572,457,180 (as corrected), or $1,396,073,300 real estate and $176,383,880 personal (including $23,209,180 bank stock). The real estate valuation showed a gain of $66,783,200 over the 1919 total; the personality a loss of $22,479,798.

Total tax rate, $24.10 per $1,000 of valuation, or only 50 cents more than in 1919, divided thus: City tax, $19.04 ($7.14 of this for schools); County tax, $1.42; State tax, $3.64. Total tax warrant, $41,258,579.59 (i. e., $2,544,776.43 more than in 1919) or $32,833,918.08 City tax; $2,364,527.07 County tax and $6,060,134.44 State tax and Metropolitan assessments; Poll tax $978,970 or $5 each on 195,794 polls, the extra $3 poll tax being imposed 1920-23, inclusive, because of soldiers' war bonus (see Acts of 1919, Chap. 283).

The exceptional increase in the City rate, or $1.89, was due to the unprecedented demands of the School Committee for increased appropriations, the School tax for 1920 being $2.12 more, but the City tax other than for schools decreasing 0.23, as compared with 1919. As the State tax was reduced from $5.03 in 1919 to $3.64 (—$1.39) only 50 cents addition to the total tax rate was necessary in 1920.

Of total assessed property value, 43 per cent is located in Ward 5 and 23 per cent in Wards 7, 8 and 9, or about two-thirds of the whole in said four wards. Average valuation per acre for all land assessed (i. e., 18,611 acres), $42,512, the total land valuation in 1920 being $791,199,100.

In the 10 years 1906-1916, the total assessed valuation increased 25 per cent, while the population gained 26 per cent. In the 20 years, 1896-1916, the gain in valuation was 64 per cent and in population 50 per cent.

Boston has for some years ranked fourth among cities of the United States as to aggregate valuation, but first as to valuation per capita. The City's real estate valuation in 1919 was 74 per cent larger than that of St. Louis, 63 per cent larger than Pittsburgh's, 67.4 per cent larger than San Francisco's and 132 per cent larger than Baltimore's, all computed on the same basis, or 100 per cent assessment.

According to these unprecedented census returns, the five districts constituting the most densely inhabited part of Boston (i. e., from the northern boundary to Franklin Park, including Roxbury and South Boston) showed a net decrease from 1915 to 1920 amounting in all to 31,881, while the other four districts showed an increase of only 34,502. In the preceding five years, 1910-1915, the same five districts increased by 16,373 and the other four by 58,481, a total increase (omitting the 15,936 gained by annexation of Hyde Park in 1912) of 58,918, or more than 22 times the increase from 1915 to 1920 as shown by last U. S. Census.

POPULATION OF COUNTIES (U. S. CENSUS) WITH INCREASE OVER PREVIOUS CENSUS (STATE) RANKED FROM LARGEST.

(1) Suffolk (3 cities and 1 town) 835,522 or 8,721 over 1915; (2) Middlesex (11 cities and 43 towns) 778,352 or + 44,728; (3) Essex (9 cities and 25 towns) 482,156 or + 18,494; (4) Worcester (3 cities and 57 towns) 455,135 or + 24,432; (5) Bristol (4 cities and 16 towns) 359,005 or + 12,041; (6) Hampden (3 cities and 20 towns) 200,305 or + 37,361; (7) Norfolk (1 city and 27 towns) 219,081 or + 17,174; seven other counties (4 cities and 127 towns) 422,800 or — 3,905. Total for the 14 counties (38 cities and 316 towns) 3,852,356 or 159,046 (i. e., 4.3 per cent) over 1915. Of said total, 2,741,599 (i. e., 71.17 per cent) were in the cities and 1,110,757 (i. e., 28.83 per cent) in the towns. The four counties, Suffolk, Middlesex, Essex and Bristol contain 63.73 per cent of the state's inhabitants.

If the municipalities having a population of 5,000 or over are properly called urban, then the percentage of urban population in the entire state reaches the notable figure of 90, while the rural shows but 10 per cent.

Sixth year of new method with annual appropriations. Budget for City and County for year 1921-22 passed by City Council April 11 (without any reductions) and approved by Mayor, April 12, 1921. Total appropriated from taxes, miscellaneous income, Water Service revenue, etc., $33,021,570 (i. e., $612,189 more than in 1920) of which $23,523,277 was for City purposes within tax limit, $5,669,001 for City debt requirements; $2,431,694 for County purposes (including $145,742 for County debt requirements), and $1,378,905 for Water Service, etc. Special appropriations included in budget were; Reconstructing and Repairing Streets by Contract, $750,000; Street Improvements, $250,000; Granolithic Sidewalks, $50,000; Bridges, repairs, etc., $90,000. Special appropriation passed prior to budget, $8,082 for East Boston Tunnel debt requirements. The Legislature having again raised the tax limit, to $11 for 1921 on each $1,000 of the 3-year average valuation (i. e., $1,526,365,955), the amount available for appropriations inside tax limits was $16,790,025, plus estimated miscellaneous revenue of $5,184,000 and cash surplus from 1920 of $3,817,251 or a total of $25,791,276.

HOW THE CITY DOLLAR WAS SPENT DURING THE LAST FINANCIAL YEAR.

For Public Schools, $0.23 cents (if the total amount appropriated had been expended, the correct figure would be 0.262); Public Works, 0.176; State Tax and Assessments, 0.133; Debt Requirements, 0.12; Police Dept., 0.08; Fire Dept., 0.07; Institutions and Poor Relief, 0.039; Hospitals and Health, 0.038; General Government, 0.037; County Courts, etc., 0.037; Public Recreation, 0.027; Public Library, 0.013, making a total of 100 cents. This excludes all expenditures from loans, etc., but includes Special Appropriations from Tax Levy and other General Income.

The revenue of the departments amounted to 16 per cent of their gross expenditures. The revenue of Public Service Enterprises alone (including Water Service, Markets, etc.) amounted to $3,997,166 or $234,117 more than their total expenditures. The fractions of the dollar above stated represent net expenditure, computed after deducting department revenue.

Revenue from another class of public service enterprise, i. e., Rapid Transit subways and tunnels, $1,446,516.75 or $19,979.55 more than the interest and sinking-fund requirements of the Rapid Transit debt in 1920.

PUBLIC RECREATION IN BOSTON.

Number of large parks, 24; separate playgrounds, 43, with total of 324 acres, also 13 playgrounds in parks, with area of 155 acres; small parks and squares, 75; total area, 2,685.68 acres. There are also within the City limits 958 acres of Metropolitan parks and parkways under State control, chief of which is Stony Brook Reservation in West Roxbury, containing 464 acres of wild forested hill and dale with many rocky knolls and an extensive view of the Charles River valley and beyond.

Number of public indoor baths open all the year, 14; 9 beach baths and 7 floating baths open during summer; indoor gymnasias, 11; total number of indoor baths taken in year 1920, 1,389,994, of which 74.2 per cent were by men and boys.

Park Department maintenance for 1920-21, $1,286,046 or $210,759 more than in 1919. Outlay for playground improvements, $188,984; for park improvements, $229,177, of which $176,505 was from Parkman Fund income. Gross debt for parks, public grounds, etc., outstanding February 1, 1921, $10,369,550; for playgrounds, $2,330,050; total, $12,699,600 or $594,250 less than in 1920. By Chap. 13, Ord. 1920, the Cemetery Department was merged with the Park Department, the latter title being substituted for Park and Recreation Department.

Including the State assessments of $884,913 for Metropolitan parks, boulevards, etc., and $231,786 for Charles River Basin improvements, the total expended for public recreation purposes in 1920 was $2,820,907 or $264,018 more than in 1919.

Total valuation of City properties devoted to recreation $69,306,900 (including $55,112,400 for Boston Common and Public Garden), which far exceeds that of any other American city except New York.

BUDGET INCREASES FOR THE PAST SIX YEARS.

Total maintenance appropriations for all departments, excluding School departments, increased from $15,936,483 in 1915 to $24,050,034 in 1920 or 50.91 per cent, while the same for School departments alone increased from $6,100,215 in 1915 to $9,858,869 in 1920 or 61.61 per cent. If the special appropriations from Tax Levy and other General Income are included, the total increase for Schools is $6,124,217 or 95.65 per cent, the excess above 61.61 per cent being due to new school buildings and sites, formerly (i. e., prior to 1910) paid for by loans.
